

Reference

Mr. Musfiq Bin Fahad, born on September 25, 2001, is employed by our company as a Working Student (Lead Gen & Prospecting) since April 1, 2022.

The Proemion GmbH develops and produces modern telematics systems for worldwide access to machine data of all kinds. Via the Proemion web portal and with the help of live diagnosis tools, together with hardware and software from our own development and production, machine and vehicle data are transmitted worldwide via internet and made available for evaluation (M2M). In addition, customer-specific solutions and CAN system components are essential components of our product portfolio.

Mr. Fahad's main areas of activity in his role as a Working Student (Lead Gen & Prospecting) are:

- Handling administrative tasks and support of the sales team in day-to-day business
- Maintaining core data in the ERP & CRM system
- Carrying out market observations and various research activities
- Answering telephone and written inquiries from our international customers

Mr. Fahad continuously impresses us with his excellent expertise, even in tangential areas, which he always uses confidently and competently in his work. Mr. Fahad's instant comprehension enables him to grasp new developments immediately and precisely assess their consequences. Through his conceptional, creative and logical thinking, he always finds excellent solutions to all emerging problems.

Mr. Fahad accomplishes his assignments with exemplary dedication and great personal commitment. Even under the most difficult of working conditions and greatest pressure, he meets our expectations in the best possible manner. In all situations Mr. Fahad acts in an extraordinarily responsible, result oriented and conscientious manner. He generally works dependably and very accurately.

Mr. Fahad achieves excellent results in all situations. His performance always meets with our complete approval in every respect. Mr. Fahad's behavior towards superiors, colleagues and customers is always exemplary and loyal.

This reference is issued at Mr. Fahad's request, together with our sincere thanks for the very good work performed to date.
